

Gods Challenge in Ghana

In 2007 when I retired from SIM (Serving in Mission, formerly Sudan Interior Mission), I was asked if I would write the history of the missions literature work in Nigeria and also Ghana the two primary countries where SIM began distributing the African Challenge magazine in the early 1950s. Having spent 50 years involved with SIM-related literature work in various capacities, I realized there was no one else more qualified to tackle these projects. The book on Nigeria, Literature Outreach in Nigeria: A History of SIM Literature Work 1901-1980, was published in 2009. Now Gods Challenge in Ghana presents the incredible story of all that has grown out of SIMs initial small beginnings in literature distribution in Ghana. I hope these accounts of Gods faithfulness in this beautiful country will leave you with a grateful heart and a renewed sense of wonder.
