

Adventure of Faith

Michael Green invites us to join him on the journey of a lifetime of Christian ministry. From his conversion to the present day, he recounts times of fruitfulness and failure, and points to those people and ideas that have shaped and inspired him. But this is not just an autobiographical account, for he also reflects on crucial issues for today's church and world. In an inspiring conclusion, he sets forth a vision of hope for the future of the worldwide community of God. One of the great Christian warriors of this age, my friend Michael Green has a lifetime rich in Christian wisdom to share with the world. Charles W. Colson, Prison Fellowship Ministry

Michael Green has an enviable gift for making you think, squirm, laugh and get real all at the same time, and his review of his full and fruitful life runs true to form. This is vintage Green. J. I. Packer, Regent College

Few people have had such a variety of gifts, and such a range of experiences, as Michael Green. So he is able to evaluate firsthand many different ministries, movements and controversies. His views are always forthright, often humorous, sometimes mischievous (as he admits), but never lacking in thoughtfulness or generosity. John Stott
