

The Witching Hour (Mount Bell Book 2)

Hazel really wants to fulfill her potential and be the witch her Grandma always said she could be. Unfortunately, though her spells always work, they never quite work the way theyre supposed to. Drake, the hunky werewolf next door, has been dutifully watching over Hazel for the local coven. Hes not convinced shes a witch, until she accidentally turns him into a dog. Of all the indignities. Now shes got his undivided attention, and my oh my how shes grown up. Man, has Drake got an appetite for a certain witch and its all for her own good. After all, who ever heard of a virgin witch? Such big teeth you have, Drake. The better to eat you with, my dear

This title is available in print! Praise for The Witching Hour The Witching Hour is a wonderful little paranormal romance of magic and giggles along the way. Marteeka Karland has done a tremendous job -- Jessica, Fallen Angel Reviews This is a fast moving work. Hazel and Drakes living situation in an apartment building full of senior citizens has the potential for some really funny moments, especially when Drake is caught naked after his change by one of the residents, theres a lot of life in that group yet. The lecherous sheriff is well done and gets his just desserts. This is a fun story with very hot love scenes. -- Maura Frankman, The Romance Studio Funny, desirable and filled with wicked pleasure, The Witching Hour will thrill your senses while raising your temperature. Ms. Karland has written of characters that create a place where fantasy and pleasure combine to give readers a fantastic story. I would love to read more about this hilarious world. So buy this book because it will give you an insight into a world that only exists in fantasy. -- Sheryl, Ecataromance
